PROPHETS OF OLD

First to See Coming Of Prince of Peace

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — For centuries prophets have forecast the birth of a Christ Child and historians have made many references to the coming of a Messiah.

These are some of the names which have been applied to Him. Immanuel, Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace, The Lord of the Highest and Jesus.

Since the birth here today of the Wonderful child and the excitment and rejoicing that have followed, local scribes have been searching history and the Bible and point to the predictions of Isaiah, Jeremiah, Micha and others.

The Lord spoke again to Ahaz saying, Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy God . . . But Ahaz said I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord. And he said, Hear ye now, O House of David . . . Behold a virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. — Isaiah 7:14.

The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined . . . For unto us a child is born, unto us a child is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulders, and his name shall be called WONDERFUL COUNSELOR THE MIGHTY GOD, THE EVERLASTING FATHER, THE PRINCE OF PEACE, of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgement and justice henceforth even forever.

The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this. — Isaiah 9:2-7.

I will gather the remnants of my flock out of all countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds . . . and I will set up shepherds over them which shall feed them, and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall they be lacking, saith the Lord, that I will raise, and the king shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgement and justice in the earth . . . And this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD, Our RIGHTEOUSNESS. — Jeremiah 23:3-6.

Now gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops; he hath laid seige against us; They say smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek. But thou, Bethlehem. Ephararath, though thou be little among the thousands of Judahs, yet out of thee shall come forth unto me one that is to be ruler of Israel; whose goings forth have been from old, from everlasting . . And he shall stand, and feed in the strength of the Lord, in the majesty of the name of the Lord his God; and they shall abide; for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth. — Micah 5:14.

In the sixth month the Angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin spoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David and the virgin's name was Mary. And the angel came upon her, and said. Hail thou are highly favored, the Lord is with thee: blessed are thou among women. And when she saw him she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be, and the Angel said unto her: Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found favor with God.

Herod in Dread, Seeks to Delude Sages from East

JERUSALEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — An apprehensive Herod sits on the throne of Judah, and is much disturbed at the significance of the Messiah in Bethlehem.

This was brought to light with the recent visit here of sages from the East who were seeking the newborn King of the Jews. Having heard of their inquiries, Herod hastily called together his chief priests and scribes who write the laws, and demanded them to tell him more of the prophecies of Christ's coming.

Then he summoned the wise men for questioning, and led them to believe that, if they would go to Bethlehem, discover the Child and return and tell him about it, he would journey there himself to pay homage.

Those who heard Herod's interview with these Eastern wise men say he was given only evasive answers.

Political commentators say it is understandable that Herod should feel uneasy at the rise of a leader who will capture the imagination of a discouraged people. His reign has been a singularly unhappy one due to the pressure from Rome.

The Emperor Augustus has lately accumulated foreign property and subjects through a campaign of military invasions and controls about all in this part of the world that is worth taking. This has occupied the minds of the people, but has increased Roman extravagances. Palestine is one of these conquered countries and Herod is the King of Augustus's own choosing.

Some regard Herod's fear of a ruler who will overthrow him in a material sense as being unfounded.

They maintain that the significance of the Messiah is spiritual rather than political, and point out that he has always been prophesied as a Shepherd of Souls rather than a military deliverer.

Magi's Wisdom is Greatest in World Declares Casper

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — This is what Casper, one of the wise men, said about their belief:

"The wisdom of the Magi is the greatest of all wisdoms on earth, because it knows its own ignorance. And that is the secret of power. We worship fire as a symbol of Him. We keep men always looking and waiting for a new sunrise but we ourselves understand that the darkness is equal to the light and that the conflict between them will never be ended."

Astrologers See Tragedy, Sorrow For Holy Babe

JERUSALEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — Great tragedy will mark the future of the child born in Bethlehem, say the country's foremost astrologers. The stars, they say, reveal:

He will be in great danger while he is still an infant, and because of an attempt upon His life, many children will be killed.

He will live to be hailed in Jerusalem, but will later be rejected and betrayed by one close to Him.

Crucifixion will be the manner of His death, and He will undergo unspeakable suffering.

There are other venerable pathetic words which foretell the sufferings of the promised Messiah.

These reveal that He will be "despised and rejected of men, a man of sorrows and acquainted grief."

Their search of the records it is believed, will continue for many weeks and will entail many secret conferences with not only members of their craft, but with the priesthood in the temple itself. Whether their finds will be made public in detail is not known.

The astrologers added that this preliminary report of their findings as revealed by their efforts probably would be considered altered by further study and indeed, might be radically altered by results of research and study.

Season's Greetings

Copies of this edition, featuring our annual Christmas front page, written as it might have been recorded in contemporary papers in the year of Our Lord's birth, may be obtained for 15c a copy from the Lemon Grove Review office, 7834 Lester st., Lemon Grove.

We, the staff of the Lemon Grove Review and Spring Valley Bulletin, wish to extend to you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

The Christmas issue today tells the story of Christ's birth as it might have been told if modern newspapers had been printed at that time. Today's current news appears on inside pages. The Bethlehem story was mainly written several years ago by a newsman and its use has become tradition with us. The dispatches are based on the story of the Christ child as it was originally written.

Magi Followed Star To Find Son of Mary

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — The mysticism and beauty of the Orient has mingled with the simplicity and reverence of a little town made holy by a divine occurance.

Three sages from the East, impressive in the richness of their many colored silks and gold insignia, walked the dusty streets of Bethlehem today and told of their journeys across desert and plain to lay rare gifts at the feet of the tiny babe.

They spoke briefly and eloquently of the prophecy. "There shall come a star out of Jacob and a spectre shall rise out of Israel," and they described the brilliance and comet-like action of this star which had arisen in the east, and which they had followed until it halted over the Judean city.

These three Magi who bear the names of Casper, Melchor and Balthazar, were familiar with the Hebrew prophecies which foretold the advent of the Messiah, and had long To prepare for the promised waited for the star, they said. King of Israel, they sold their possessions and equipped a caravan.

Last night, surrounded by humble shepherds and barnyard animals, they fell to their knees and worshipped the young child with great joy, and presented him with frankincense, myrrh and gold.

When they were asked if the commonplace surrounding seemed out of keeping with Christ's significance, Melchor, the wise man, answered:

"The King we seek is not to be found in the palace, nor among the rich and powerful. If the light of the world and the glory of Israel had been appointed to come with earthly splendor, it must have happened long ago. For no son of Abraham will ever again rival the power which Joseph had in the palaces of Egypt or the magnificance of Solomon throned between the lions of Jerusalem. But the light for which the world is waiting is a new light, the glory that shall rise out of patient and triumphant suffering. And the kingdom which is to be established forever in a new kingdom, the royalty of unconquerable love."

An intimation of the uncertain future was voiced when he added: "I do not know how the turbulent kings and people of the earth shall be brought to acknowledge the Messiah and pay homage to Him. But this I know. Those who seek Him will do well to look among the poor and lowly, the sorrowful and the oppressed."

Herod's Spies Said Departing Hurriedly For Jerusalem

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — Several known spies and two sychophants of the court of King Herod, who for the greater part of the morning have been furtively watching the stable wherein the King of Glory rests in his swaddling clothes, left and came bound presumably for Jerusalem.

Herod is known to be extremely interested in the journeys of the Magi to Bethlehem.

Lowly Shepherds First to Note Miracle

Long-awaited Messiah Born in Lowly Manger

Eyes of All Judea Turn to Bethlehem As Word Spreads

Appearance of Star Convinces Inhabitants New Baby is Prince

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — The eyes of all Judea are turned with awe today upon this little town as the word emanates from it that the long prophesied Messiah was born here last night.

Miraculous happenings and visitations of heavenly hosts which confronted them with radiance and divine song, lead inhabitants to believe that this is the prince of the throne of David, who Scriptures have said will reunite the scattered tribes of Israel and reign over them as the Son of God.

The appearance of a new star of Great Magnitude and luminescense, convinced them that it portends to the ancient prophecy.

The infant, born to Mary, a Jewish girl from Nazareth, who is the wife of Joseph, a carpenter, was first discovered by a group of shepherds who received the news of His birth from a band of angels while they were tending their flocks in the low lying hills outside the city.

Descending in a blaze of heavenly glory that prostrated the little group of men and boys with amazement, the divine visitors told them not to be afraid but to go to the stable in Bethlehem where they would find the Christ in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger.

This the shepherds did, being guided all the way by an angel. There they found the child, but recently born, with his parents and stable animals. So deep was the conviction of the angel's message upon them, that they immediately accepted Him as the promised Saviour, and fell upon their knees and worshiped him.

Following in quick succession the visit of the shepherds was a caravan of wise men, or Magi, from humble birthplace bearing jewels and precious gifts. To them too, this was a long-awaited event, since they are close students of astronomy, and were watching for the star. When it appeared they regarded it as the sign that the child had been born which the prophet had foretold.

While the largest part of the population here is talking of the event in tones of unsuppressed awe, and plainly regard it as a means by which they will be delivered from their Roman oppressor, there are many who are frankly skeptical. They feel that the future Christ will come from a more significant source.

The whole atmosphere here has been one of unusual excitement for the past few days since that was the time decreed by Augustus Caesar for all tax payers in Judea to be registered. Mary and Joseph being of the house of David, were required to come to Bethlehem, and although Mary was an expectant mother, and the 50-mile journey from Nazareth in Galilee was extremely arduous for her, the urgency of the order was such that they dare not say no.

From the meager details gained from keepers of public places, it appears that Joseph had failed to make any reservation for lodging. The low temperature of the winter night forced them to the stable where they made themselves as comfortable as they could in the straw. They suffered no ill effects from the experience, however, and those who visited the little family after the birth became known, report that an aura of light transformed the dingy surroundings into a place of beauty.

Mary indicated that she would call the child Jesus

Great Joy Pervades City of Bethlehem

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — It is impossible to describe the feeling of great joy that pervades Bethlehem today as the coming of the long-heralded Messiah is realized by the majority of its inhabitants.

The shepherds probably experienced the most poignant sensation for it was to them that the news was first given. The little group who were guarding their flocks from foxes and wolves that still roam the hills of Palestine, speak with great wondering of last night's message from the sky.

The amazing light together with the chanting of a heavenly host has brought an incoherence to their speech; but the radiance of their face is more impressive than any words could be.

"An angel of the Lord suddenly flashed before us and the glory of the Lord shone all around us," one of them said.

"We were frightened but the angel said, 'Have no fear, This is good news. I am bringing to you news of great joy that is meant for all the people. Today you have a saviour born in the town of David, the Lord, Messiah. And here is a proof to you; you will find a baby wrapped up and lying in a stall for cattle'."

Then a host of heaven's army suddenly appeared beside the angel, extolling God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

"Having sung this song, the angel went back to heaven, the light faded away, and all was dark as before."

"We began talking together about those strange sights and sounds," the shepherd related. "We didn't stop to think what would happen to our flocks, or wait until morning we went at once. When we saw all was as the angel had said, we told everyone about it."

'Mary Smiled at Me!' Simply Clad Boy Says

NAZARETH, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — A young boy — one of the band of shepherds which was visited on the hill near here last night by a heavenly host of angels who told them of the birth of the baby prophet, was a shy narrator of events transpiring at the stables when the presence of the child became known.

Rough clad, and plainly awed by his part in the divine drama, he gave the only clear impression gained of Mary, the mother of the Holy Child. The other shepherds were too inspired, and the wise men from the east too preoccupied with the identity of the infant to notice details which the eye of a child seized upon.

"Everything seems so quiet in the stable," he replied to questions. "I noticed that even the pigeons didn't coo like they usually do."

"Did Mary or Joseph say anything to anyone?" he was asked.

The lad flushed then confessed: "Joseph asked me to help him fix the hay so it would be more comfortable, and then Mary smiled at me after she had been looking at the baby, and so I asked her if they didn't have better places in the inn. She answered low-like: "There wasn't any room for us."

"I felt sorry for her; and then she smiled again and just whispered: "But I like it here. The inn was so noisy, and the streets are full of loud people. The animals are peaceful. You mustn't feel sorry for us."

"I still felt strange. It is as though something too wonderful to talk about has happened to me, I can't explain it. But I feel so peaceful inside."

Inn Keeper's Faith In Miracle Strengthens

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning of Year of Our Lord 1. — Bewilderment marked the features today of the keeper of the little inn where Mary and Joseph sought shelter last night. But behind the bewilderment could be sensed a dawning belief.

"There was something different about her face," he said of Mary. "It was tired — but different. And when Joseph turned away leading the ass she was riding, something about him too, made me want to call them back.

"I went to the stable this morning," he mused. "Only it didn't seem like the same stable somehow."

Messiah Comes Into World Torn By Internal Strife

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — Christ was born last night. They say he is a King. Into a world torn with strife, into a dictator-ridden country that trembles at the clashing swords of Rome, has come the ray of light so long awaited by the troubled people.

It is a far cry from the golden pillars of Solomon's temple to the crude stalls of a cattle barn.

For hundreds of years the memories and tales of the glories of ancient Jerusalem have been treasured in the hearts of scattered race. For generations they have unrolled their papyrus scripts and reassured themselves that one day a Redeemer of Mankind would restore their kingdoms. With mighty armies He would vanquish a tyrant Caesar, and rebuild their shining city.

They thought of him in terms of shining raiment and a golden throne; they didn't expect swaddling clothes and manger hay.

They could see him proclaimed by heralds with silver trumpets; they didn't think his companions could be rough-haired oxen and sleepy-eyed goats.

They expected urns of smoldering incense, but not the aroma of a stable.

Multitudes would prostrate themselves on the ground in His presence, they believed; they didn't suppose that a harried innkeeper would suggest that the royal family sleep in the barn because all of his rooms were full of taxpayers.

Some say that this baby born last night to Mary and Joseph of Nazareth couldn't possibly be the Messiah foretold in Scriptures. But there are others who remember the words of the prophet Isaiah, of Jeremiah and of Micah and with unspeakable joy hail Him as the Saviour of Israel.

Pavnovs Star in 'Nutcracker'

By Susanne Williams

The San Diego Ballet Assn. opened the Christmas season Thursday with its annual production of "The Nutcracker Suite", a cherished tradition for young-hearted San Diegans.

The snowflakes, the mice, the gingerbreads — and, of course, the Nutcracker himself—were there again to lead old and new friends into the magic world of Tchaikovsky's most romantic ballet.

This year's production was highlighted by the first joint performance in San Diego of Galina and Valery Panov, the celebrated dancers from the Kirov Ballet in Leningrad who left the USSR for Israel in 1974 after 2 years of intense struggle.

Although Galina Panov has danced the role of Clara here last year, it is the first time that she and her husband appear together as the "Nutcracker's" leading couple.

In an unusual choreographic move, Galina Panov portrays Clara, the Snow Queen and the Sugar Plum Fairy, a change of roles that excellently suited her virtuosity.

Valery Panov as the Cavalier showed bravura and sovereign strength in his jumps. The couple's Gran Pas de Deux, a rare aesthetic pleasure, won standing applause.

The two leading dancers were handsomely supported by the San Diego Ballet, although B. J. Martin and Roman Wright as Arabians slightly moved into an area of snake-charming acrobatics. Susan C. Guenther, Diana Turner and Arturo Fernandez delighted as Chinese dancers, and Ricardo Moyanoa, John Brudowsky and Jon Martin were every inch of their jumps the forceful Russians they portrayed.

The San Diego Ballet School transformed itself into a cute, mice, soldiser and ginger-bread characters to charm the audience with a touching display of seriousness.

Costume designs by Kae Tang, Linda Pierson and Marjorie Cutting nicely enhanced the ballet's fairy-tale atmosphere and, down to the last Chinese parasol, left little to be desired. Larry Kane and Davis West created a set design that included Victorian domesticity, a sugar-sweet scenery in pink and a breathtaking, superdimensional Christmas tree: to last year's audience, it was a familiar sight.

Family Life Seminar Held Jan. 27-28 in S.D. Church

Requests for ideas on how to strengthen the family in the San Diego County area has prompted the San Diego Evangelical Association to schedule a Family Life Seminar.

Dr. and Mrs. Tim LaHaye will serve as speakers in their first seminar here.

Previous forums have listed Dr. Henry Brandt and Dr. Howard Hendricke as speakers.

The Seminar is scheduled for January 27th and 28th, in the First Assembly of God Church, 8404 Phyllis place, off 805 freeway, overlooking Mission Valley.

It will begin at 7 p.m., January 27th and conclude on the 28th at 3:30 p.m.

Cost is $10 per person, regular rate; $8.50 for special group rate; $6.50 for full-time students; and $5 for FLS alumni.

Dr. LaHaye outlined the Seminar's focus.

"A Family Life Seminar is a concentrated training session of Biblical principles," said Dr. LaHaye, "that will enrich good marriages, salvage weak ones, prepare young people for marriage, and help many people make a decision for Jesus Christ."

LaHaye is a well-known speaker on family life relationships and has conducted over 200 conferences on the subject through his Family Life Seminar ministry in more than fifty U.S. and Canadian cities, and around the world.

He currently pastors Scott Memorial Baptist Church in San Diego, and is the President of Christian Heritage College.

Some of the topics to be covered are "How to be Happy Though Married," "Why You Act the Way You Do," "Overcoming Hostility in the Home," "Freedom from Fear, Anxiety and Worry," "The "Basis Keys to Physical Harmony," "How to Experience Spirit-Controlled Family Living," "How to Develop Your Child's Temperament," and "Six Keys to Wedded Bliss."

Registration information can be secured by calling 440-0227, or by writing FLS, P. O. Box 1299, El Cajon, CA 92022.

Faith Chapel Xmas Service Televised

A medley of Christmas music, a children's nativity scene and a message by Pastor George Gregg of Faith Chapel in La Mesa will highlight Faith Chapel's Christmas Special to be aired on Sunday.

Air times for the hour-long service are scheduled for 11 a.m. on KGTV-Channel 10 and 10 p.m. on Cable TV-Channel 4.

The Christmas Special will also be aired in Fresno, California at 8 p.m. on KAIL-TV-Channel 53.

It also will be cabled to over 200 cities in Texas, Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico and Oklahoma via KXTX-TV-Channel 39, Dallas-Forth Worth, from 12 noon to 1 p.m.

Produced by Mark Thomas and directed by Channel 10's Fred Bushardt, the special was taped on December 18th by San Diego's Western Video. Music was directed by Glen Aubrey.

Clubhouse for Kids Airs Sat. On Ch. 4

Christian Clubhouse will premiere a weekly television series on Saturday at 10:30-11 a.m. on Channel 4-Cable TV with an original play, "The Night Before Christmas On Mustard Seed Street."

Puppeteers Jerry and Diana Vandenberg will tell the story of Christmas through the characters of Tom & Suzie, Ruper the Dog, "Brown Thing," and Charlie the Mouse.

The weekly TV series will include a variety of segments, including the Dr. Francis Wise phonetic method of reading, young talent, and animated Bible stories.

Plans are set for youngsters to be selected each week to appear on the show and the program has been scheduled for six months on Channel 4.

50 from Skyline Head To Wesleyan Youth Convention

About 50 young people from Skyline Wesleyan Church in Lemon Grove will be among the 1,000 delegates to the Western Area Wesleyan Youth Convention held in Denver, Colorado, December 27 through 29.

At the convention, Skyline's music director, Otis Skillings, will be in charge of music with Dr. John Snook, president of Bartlesville Wesleyan College listed as featured speaker.

Among the Skyline delegation will be nine state-wide representatives in five different areas including pantomine, and instrumental solo.

The delegation will be accompanied by Skyline youth minister the Reverend Karl Westfall.

Poinsettias

A Legend of the Painted Leaves

By Mil Chipp

When Joel Roberts Poinsett was sent to Mexico in 1822 as a diplomatic representative for President James Monroe, he never envisioned that the mission would lead to the discovery of a beautiful, unique flower, one that would become a world-wide symbol of the Christmas season.

Nor did he imagine, in his wildest dreams, that the flower eventually would bear his name and be known as the poinsettia.

An avid and talented botanist, Poinsett was curious about the plant life he found throughout his travels in Mexico. One plan especially intrigued him, not only because of its unusual form, but because the people expressed a particular fondness for it.

Loving brilliant color, Mexicans used it to decorate their homes and churches. It also had a special significance when used to beautify the nacimientos — the little scenes erected to represent the Nativity during the Christmas season.

Legends about the plant with its "painted leaves" were many and varied. One of Aztec origin told of a primrose who had loved unwisely and was taken into the sky by rankled gods to separate her from her lover. Drops of blood from her "broken heart" fell to the earth, and wherever the drops fell—a bright red flower sprang to life.

The most popular legend Poinsett came upon told of a poor little Mexican girl (in some versions it's a little boy) who was heart-broken because it was Christmas Eve and she had nothing of value or beauty to offer to the Holy Infant. On her way to church, an angel appeared and bade her gather up some of the scrawny weeds growing along the road and take them into the church.

The young girl did as she was bid and, much to the shock of others in the church, laid the weeds at the foot of the nacimiento as her offering of love to the Holy Infant. Compared to the other gifts, the weeds were, indeed very poor. But as she knelt in prayer, the ugly weeds were transformed into a lovely bouquet of scarlet brilliance — such as had never been seen before.

To this day the people of Mexico and Central America call it "Flore de la Noche Buena" (Flower of the Nativity)—possibly because of this legend; but more probably because the flower in its wild state blooms just in time for the Christmas season. In some Latin American countries it also is called "Noche Buena" or "Flore de Pascua" (Christmas Flower).

The more Poinsett heard about the flower, the more interested he became in its growth pattern. When he returned to the United States after his diplomatic mission, he took a number of cuttings to the greenhouse on his Charleston, S.C., plantation. As the plant flourished, he sent cuttings to other U.S. botanists and interested nurserymen, including the National Institute for the Promotion of Science (a forerunner of the Smithsonian Institute), which Poinsett helped to found.

A nurserymen in Philadelphia showed his gratitude by suggesting that the plant be named in honor of Poinsett, thus the name poinsettia.

When Poinsett had referred to the poinsettia as having "painted leaves," he was most accurate. The red, petal-like formation is not the true flower as believed to be by many, but a highly modified leaf or bracht. The true flowers are clustered in tiny yellow, club-shaped pods, which grow insignificantly in the center of the colored collar or leaf formation. Ecologists claim that the plant developed the colored leaves (red in the wild state) as a lure to insects, thus providing fertilization from plant to plant.

Botanically speaking, the poinsettia is a shrub belonging to the spurge family—genus Euphorbia pulcherrima, having a milk-like substance throughout its stalk or stem. It is native to Mexico and Central and South America.

According to growers, its bloom depends on exposures to 70 consecutive days having 13 hours of darkness each night, with temperatures that range from 60 to 65 degrees. Since the Northern Hemisphere's long nights begin in the Fall, the flower's blooming period usually is triggered to occur around the Christmas season. When grown in greenhouses, the timing of the blooms can be controlled to a much finer degree through the use of artificial light.

Ninety percent of all the hybrid poinsettias grown in the world are now said to be raised in San Diego County. It is from these stock farms in San Onofre, Carlsbad and Encinitas that nurseries throughout the 50 states and beyond get their root stock.

The largest of these farms belongs to Paul Ecke, of Encinitas, who is largely responsible for making the flower one of great commercial value. It all began in 1906 when his father, German-Swiss Albert Ecke, introduced the flower in his flower and vegetable business in Hollywood. Today, the Ecke farms are the world's largest commercial growers of poinsettias.

Joel Roberts Poinsett died Dec. 12, 1851, unaware that the flower he brought from Mexico would bear his name and would become a beloved symbol of the American Christmas.

LG SOROPTIMIST CLUB members spent Friday afternoon decorating the tree across the street from the LG Chamber of Commerce office in holiday fare.
Under the direction of Lemon Grove Youth Center Director Dottie Pettis and Assistant Director Kay Weaver, the club made the decorations from money donaed by the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce.

All Arrested in 12 Hours

3 Nabbed in L.G. Burglary

The three young black men who were involved in burglary attempts Thursday on Len's Mens Wear at 7763 Broadway and Simons Pawn Shop at 7769, both in Lemon Grove, were in custody the same day of the crime.

42 police officers, including 20 members of the Sheriff's SWAT (Special Weapons and Tactics Team), 10 regular sheriff's deputies and 8 detectives of the sheriff's Lemon Grove office and 4 CHP men were involved.

Sheriff's deputies responded to a silent alarm at 3:30 a.m. and found Len's Mens Wear ransacked. Officers spied the culprits on the roof of the firm next door.

Because Simons has a goodly supply of guns and ammunition and could keep a battle going for days, deputies called SWAT.

The men on the roof frightened when the first contingent of deputies arrived and two of them jumped from the roof and fled.

The other was already in Simons. By 7:30 a.m. he surrendered. The suspect was Stanley P. Buchanan, 21, of 5073 Solola st., San Diego.

Officers found two wallets on the roof near a ventilation opening where the first suspect had entered. Detectives Doug Henderson and Duncan McIntosh were dispatched to an address in one of the wallets. Soon they had Raybon Long, Jr., 21, of 5109 Solola st. in custody.

The third suspect, Marin J. Hines, 20, of 5066 Reynolds st., San Diego, who had discussed his sorry plight with his mother, turned himself in at the Sheriff's L.G. office about 4 p.m. The whole operation was over in 12 hours.

The first men on the scene, deputies Ken Gordon and Sgt. Charles Curtis said the two suspects on the roof ran back and forth until they realized they weren't surrounded then in the darkness, jumped and ran.

That was none too soon, for within minutes the area was swarming with police. The area was sealed off and surrounded. It was not known at the time how many suspects were in the pawnshop nor whether they would try to fight their way out.

A casualty, connected indirectly with the break-in, was a window in the law offices of L.G. Mayor Jim Dorman. SWAT members had accidentally broken a window climbing to the roof of his building which is across the street from the break-in for a vantage point. One officer stuck his foot through the screen and the window. He was not injured.

All officials agreed that there was excellent co-operation between the groups. No shot was fired, no one had been hurt; and the loss was expected to be reasonably small.

The three men were scheduled to be arraigned in El Cajon.

Council Turns Down EDCO Zone Request

The Lemon Grove City Council agonized Monday—'til near midnight—over its first decision on a zoning violation charge.

City regulations are presently the same as County's. EDCO is an area trash collection firm. The firm operates 30 or more trucks from its yard at 6670 Federal blvd.

Residents of Hibiscus st., up the hill from the EDCO yard, came to the meeting and complained of the noise, crowded parking and the alleged zoning misuse of the property.

EDCO had appealed to County Zoning but the appeal had been denied. EDCO then asked City Council to relax the zoning rules. Council voted 4-1 to require EDCO to bring its operation within the zoning regulations. Councilman Dale Bailey abstained.

The end result is that EDCO will be required to "limit the use of property to the maintaining of corporate offices and the repair only of vehicles, storage and repair of trash bins. Trucking yard use (storage and parking) will not be permitted.

Council relaxed road installation requirements slightly so that Ronald L. Swaim, a contractor, could get on with his construction project at Hilltop drive but an irrevocable easement will maintain the integrity of the Community Plan.

The Central Baptist Church got good news and bad. Im-

Brumbaugh Gets AAFP Appointment

Dr. Simon Brumbaugh of 3240 Main st., Lemon Grove, has been appointed to the Committee on Continuing Medical Education of the American Academy of Family Physicians, the nation's second largest medical group with more than 39,000 members throughout the U.S.

AAFP is pioneer in mandatory education for members and requires each doctor to complete a minimum of 150 hours of approved continuing study every 3 years.

It is also a sponsorer of the new specialty of family practice and assists a system of residency training programs.

Water District Swears-in Ball

Harold W. Ball, principal of San Altos Elementary school in Lemon Grove and first vice president of the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club, was sworn in as Director of Division 2 of the Helix Water District.

Ball, a graduate of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, was appointed by the County Board of Supervisors to fill the unexpired term of John B. Gibson who resigned after moving from the district. He had served 18 years.

Ball has recently won election over two other candidates to a four-year term commencing December 30, and will be the first new member on the Board of Directors since 1959.

74-Year Old L.G. Woman Victim Of $2,500 'Pigeon Drop' Caper

A 74-year old Lemon Grove woman became the second woman here to become a "pigeon drop" victim in recent months.

It cost her $2,500 to take part in an operation that would have netted her a third of the $7,200 "found" money.

According to Detective Dick Rabell of the Sheriff's Fraud Department, the elderly woman was accosted in College Grove Shopping Center Saturday by two white females who claimed to have found the money in the center's mall.

They offered to share the money with her after supposedly talking to their attorney by phone. The attorney supposedly told her that he would hold the money until it was proper for the three women to claim it. But he demanded that each put up some "good faith" money. The victim was driven to the bank where she withdrew $2,500.

The three then drove to the law offices of Davies, Barwick and Knowlton at Grove and Lester sts. in Lemon Grove. One of the women "took the money in." Actually she went in the front door and out the back carrying the victim's $2,500 with her. The second woman went to see what was keeping her. Presumably, she too, went in the front and out the back. After a wait, the victim went to see what was causing the delay.

It didn't take her long to realize that she had been victimized of $2,500. But by the time she was convinced that the attorneys had no part nor knowledge of the "drop," the suspects had disappeared.

Similar Case

Several months ago a similar tableau was being acted out. While this victim was in the bank she met an old friend who wanted to know why she looked so happy. The intended victim could keep it a secret no longer and confided that she had drawn the money out to assure getting $4,000.

The friend recounted that the LEMON GROVE REVIEW had a "pigeon drop" story a few months earlier. It dawned on the intended victim that she was about to play sucker.

She redeposited her money and had the bank manager call the sheriff's office.

The suspects, after waiting as long as they dared, apparently became frightened and fled. A good description of the suspects resulted in their capture. They were black. They are in jail in Los Angeles without bail. When they are freed they will face charges in San Diego.

The name of the new victim was not released by police because the investigation is continuing.

Off-Duty Deputy Snares Burglars After Chase

An off-duty sheriff's deputy saw what appeared to be a gasoline filling station burglary in progress early Monday morning.

A burglary it was!

Deputy Steve Cruzen had just finished his shift at the sheriff's Lemon Grove office and was enroute home in his own car at 12:30 a.m. when he spied two males in the Go-Lo gas stop, College and Federal, Lemon Grove.

The suspects spotted Cruzen and fled. After high speed chase through Lemon Grove, the suspects stopped, got from their car and one point-

Borg Signs for Airlines Play

PALM SPRINGS — Now that Wimbledon champion Bjorn Borg has settled a recent $5.7 million lawsuit out of court with World Championship Tennis, he's ready for business. And the first order of business was his entry in the fifth annual American Airlines Tennis Games.

The lucrative $225,000 tournament will be conducted February 13-19 at the Mission Hills Country Club in Rancho Mirage. Qualifying to fill the 64-draw tournament will be February 10-12.

Despite a shoulder injury which forced him to withdraw from the U. S. Open Championship at Forest Hills, the handsome Swede has had an outstanding year.

Borg has won nine tournaments in 1977 — including five in a row — and was in the finals with Guillermo Vilas in the rained out Johannesburg event last month. Excluding his default in the fourth round of the U. S. Open, Borg has won 53 consecutive matches.

Borg has twice defeated No. 1 ranked Jimmy Connors this year and also Vilas.

Proceeds benefit the Desert Hospital Foundation.

HoC Names CIF Award Winners

The San Diego Hall of Champions has announced the 1977 All California Interscholastic Federation San Diego Section first and second offensive and defensive football teams, as selected by the San Diego County Prep Sports Writers.

Marcus Allen, Lincoln High School's sensational offensive and defensive star was the unanimous choice of "Player of the Year." The 6'3", 198 lb. quarterback on offense, and defensive back, on defense, led the Lincoln "Hornets" to their first CIF Football Championship. Marcus scored five touchdowns in the final championship game against Kearney High School. He was responsible for establishing four new records in the championship game. Lincoln High School's great defensive record was due to the play of Marcus Allen, Itai Satua and David Allison. These three players were picked on the All-CIF first defensive team.

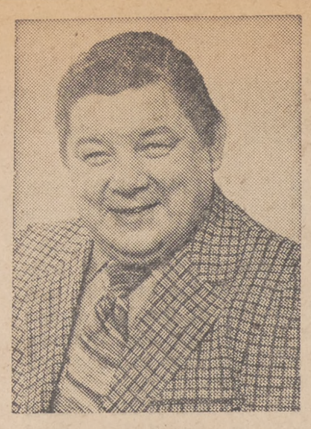
TAKE FIVE



by John E. Wirges

Tis the season to be jolly and wish all our friends and neighbors the very best of Holiday Cheer. It's also time to settle up all accounts and make peace within ourselves.

It is in that spirit I present the following thoughts. If it were in my power I would make them outright gifts, but if the important thing is in the thought, let it be known far and wide that in this holiday season, these are mine.

For Anita Bryant, please Santa, an old fashioned Christmas. In her honor I intend to drink several old fashions this party time myself. Everytime I think of Anita, I think of having a drink. That's known as turning annoyance into accomplishment.

And Santa, please keep the KGB Chicken out of the hands of all those Jewish Grandmothers who figure he would make a big enough pot of Chicken Soup to cure all the colds, mange, toothaches, dandruff and anything else "it couldn't hurt" in North America.

And how about a week of Santa Ana weather for Norrie West and the Andy Williams-San Diego Open (Jan. 25 through the 29th). Norrie is getting to an age where he deserves a little sunshine. He's got the AWSDO going to well you'd think he is a genius. But if the truth be known, Norrie West can't handicap golfers at the Gautay Country Club and potluck parade worth a damn. It's his only fault, poor man.

Getting around to baseball, Santa, how about a soft, but firm muzzle for everybody's hero Ray Kroc. He tends to put his mouth in motion before he puts his brain in gear, but he's such a loveable Teddy Bear nobody wants to tell him.

Ray, you killed the Andy Messersmith deal and probably the Reggie Jackson bid. Then you advertise you want to dump Mike Ivie and trade Dave Winfield before you go to the winter meetings and general baseball trading mart. Really, that ain't the way to do it.

You have a good baseball man in Bob Fontaine, Ray. Be a good guy and shut up and listen to him. He's really on your side. We all are, even though you dumped Bobby Chandler for no good reason, save whim.

Getting back to the main theme of this thing, Santa, how about a super television job for Robert Alexander Chandler, VIII. He comes from a long line of good guys and he and his four girls deserve better than they got at the hands of kindly old Ray Kroc.

Getting on to football, if peace can be made in the Mid-East, how about a little between Tommy Prothro and Dan Fouts. And please, Santa. Knock off those rumors about Prothro retiring before he begins to believe them. He's taken Gene Klein's crew from poverty to respectability and he's just short of getting 'em rich. Let's let him stick around to finish the job, huh?

We have a name problem coming to our town. A new bowl for post season football play remains untagged. Offers include carnation and avocado — a pink flower and a fruit. They're very much in the bowl name pattern. But why single one out.

A lot of things grow in California. And our Governor is a strong supporter of those who work in the fields. To honor all the products of our county and state, why not call the new football shindig coming to San Diego the "Fruit Bowl."

Agriculturally speaking, Fruit Bowl would be a natural for our state. I'm surprised we're not using it somewhere already.

As the days trudge into last minute shopping trips, and the spirit of the season seems more and more commercial, let me wish each and everyone of you wonderful readers the warmest and most happy of all Holidays.

Merry Christmas, everyone. May the problems of the day melt away and may good fortune blow softly in your ear.

Top Pro List Grows with 5 More Names

Five more pros from the top money winners for 1977 including tour millionaire Miller Barber have entered the 11th annual Andy Williams San Diego Open golf tournament January 25-29 at Torrey Pines.

Barber, 46, boasts one of the most consistent records in golf, having been in the first 60 in earnings every year from 1963 on and in the top 10 four times. He was eighth in 1977 with $148,320 and a win in the Anheuser-Busch Open, his tenth tour victory.

$ MILLION BARBER — Miller Barber who has won more than a million dollars on PGA tours, has signed to compete in the AWSDO in January.

Miller is one of the 15 players who have earned more than a million dollars in the PGA tour. His $1,249,864 collected over 19 years puts him ninth on the career earnings list.

Jerry McGee (not the S.D. Union sportswriter), John Schroeder, Joe Inman, Jr., and Dave Eichelberger are the other entries, ranked 15, 45, 47 and 51 on the 1977 money list respectively.

McGee, starting his 11th year on tour, has been in the top 16 the past three years. His last win was the 1977 IVB Philadelphia, the second championship of his career. He earned $124,584 the past season.

Schroeder, from the tournament site of La Jolla, tied for second with Larry Nelson in last January's AWSDO. He also took second in the Colonial National to wind up with his best year financially, winning $69,333. He has one tour win and has been in the top 60 twice over a nine-year career.

The 30-year-old Inman has been in the exempt top 60 the last three years. His only tour win was the 1976 Kemper Open, but he tied for second in the 1977 Florida Citrus.

Eichelberger won the 1971 Milwaukee Open and has been in the first 60 three times. He took second in the 1971 AWSDO.

Fred Hessler Named Voice of Rose Bowl

Fred Hessler, sports director of radio station KMPC and "Voice of the Bruins" for UCLA football and basketball games, will broadcast the January 2 Michigan-Washington Rose Bowl game on an NBC Radio Network of more than 200 stations and WMPC will carry that game in Southern California it has been announced by KMPC.

Hessler will join Barry Tompkins of NBC Weekend Sports in doing the play-by-play broadcast over the national network.

In addition, Hessler will do special pre and post-game shows from the Rose Bowl which will be exclusive on KMPC, and the station plans other special programming leading up to the 1:30 broadcast.

This will be the second coast-to-coast Rose Bowl game broadcast in three years for Hessler, and second in three years for KMPC, while NBC's association with the "granddaddy of the bowl games" goes back to 1927 when it carried it as the first coast-to-coast sports broadcast in history.

Coliseum Fight Season Ends; Next Card Jan. 20

By Max Goodwin

The boxing season ended at the Coliseum Friday night with an dandy 8-bout card.

The new season will get under way January 20th, according to Danny Millsap, Coliseum fight promoter.

This writer had the privilege of presenting a plaque to the "Best Prospect of the Year," little Carlos Ortiz, a featherweight of Logan Heights. He is 18, with 5 years of amateur boxing under his belt. Several months ago he became a professional and racked up a 3-0 record. His industry and his punching power won him many followers. He announced that he would eventually hold the featherweight boxing crown of the world.

Within 15 minutes of the time he was awarded his plaque, he was being counted out, the victim of Kid Mesa of Chula Vista. So it's back to the drawing board for the capable little scrapper.

In other fights Clina Campbell won a split decision over Jose Fuentes and Bob Wilde KO'd Jerry Ballon on Spring Valley. The two scraps were amateurs.

On the pro card Middleweigh James Ware decisioned Hector Fernandez; Heavyweight Robert Bryan got the judges' ananimous nod over Vic Can Fleet; Linsay Provo KO'd Armando Vasquez at 1:31 of the 2nd round.

Lightweights Eric Bonilla and Moses Armas battled to a draw; Greg Stephens earned a split decision over Steve Delgado. They are middleweights.

The wrap-up was the Mesa-Ortiz fight. It would not be surprising to see this pair rematched.

Boxing Awards Given

Bert Lee, a welterweight of Campo, was given the Most Improved Preliminary contestant.

Spud Murphy and Samme Mesa each won a plaque for participating in the Outstanding Main Event.

Carlos Ortiz, was awarded the Best Prospect of the Year plaque.

Only Ortiz fought Friday night. He was knocked out.

NASCAR Riverside Changes Add Spice to 1978 Season

RIVERSIDE — The biggest shakeup of drivers and chief mechanics in the 30-year history of NASCAR will begin to reveal itself at Riverside International Raceway with the staging on January 22 of the $147,470 Winston Western 500.

There will be new driving assignments for Bobby Allison, Buddy Baker, Dave Marcis and Lenny Pond—in addition to the recently formed alliance of driver Neil Bonnett and car owner Jim Stacy—plus new crew chiefs for Cale Yarborough and Benny Parsons.

Added to confusion over who's with whom in 1978 are rumors about the spot appearances of road racing specialists David Hobbs and Al Holbert, who may be available for the track where their talents can best be used, Riverside.

The personnel shakeup is going on at the same time as a major change in racing equipment brought about by two significant rule changes. Some of the new models of cars will be evident at Riverside, as major teams are currently deciding whether to introduce such exotics as Buicks, Pontiacs, Thunderbirds and Dodge Magnums in the season opener or wait until the Daytona 500.

Among the major teams, only the Wood Brothers of Stuart, Va., appear unaffected. Their driver, David Pearson, will be back to defend his title in the 500.

On a team-by-team basis, this is what's happening.

Richard Petty — The STP driver has shared wind tunnel time with Bonnett's crew chief, Larry Hyde, and apparently decided to adopt the Dodge Magnum body style.

Benny Parsons—He has lost engine builder Waddell Wilson, whose horsepower magic Parsons has credited with much of his success.

Bud Moore — Winless for two years, he has replaced Buddy Baker as driver with Bobby Allison, who folded his own Winston Cup racing operation.

M. C. Anderson—All season long his driver, Sam Summers battled with Ricky Rudd and Janet Guthrie for the "rookie of the year" title taken by Rudd. Summers has now been dumped in favor of Buddy Buddy Baker.

Lenny Pond—He has a new backer, coalman Harry Ranier, and has set up the new racing operation in Harry Hyde's old shop in Charlotte. While Pond will probably drive a Chevy at Riverside, he is expected to unveil an Oldsmobile or a Buick for the Daytona 500.

James Hylton — He has a new sponsor, Southland Cork and Rubber Co. of Norfolk, Va., and the financing has given him the latitude to hire IMSA champion Al Holbert for selected races.

Dave Marcis — He has acquired a new car owner, Rodnew Osterlund of Los Gatos, and Osterlund has bought all the old Roger Penske racing equipment.

Reincarnated Mariners On View at Arena Sun.

Hockey returns to the S.D. Sports Arena Sunday at 7 p.m. when the reincarnated S.D. Mariners host the San Francisco Shamrocks.

The meeting will offer several interesting situations. One, the Shamrocks will be led by Wayne Rivers, a former S.D. favorite, who is now their player coach.

Two, Clay Hebenton, Mariners goalie, brings with him a love-hate relationship of the fans. San Diego fans remember Hebenton well for his rough play as a goalie for the Phoenix Roadrunners. That emotion will change to love if he performs as well for the Mariners.

Paine said the Mariners is a defense-oriented team under Butch Barber, the coach, a former defenseman, who has built the team along his style of play.

Three veteran defensemen are listed as key players. Mike Keeler, Rich Krezanski and Dwayne Pentland all carry minor league experience.

League rules require 5 Americans on each team's roster. The Mariners have 7.

Sunday, and every game night thereafter, the east end of the Arena will be open as general admission. 3,000 seats, from ice to rafters, will go on sale on the night of the game only for $2.50.

Parking, for hockey games, is free.

Los Alamitos Switches to Night Races

LOS ALAMITOS — Quarter horse racing switches to nighttime action at Los Alamitos Race Course beginning Sunday until closing February 7 but not before the $220,000 Golden State Futurity is staged Saturday in the afternoon.

The Horsemen's Quarter Horse Racing Assn. will turn the lights on the world's fastest horses Christmas night with the $25,000-added St. Nicholas Express Handicap highlighting the evening's racing program. Post time for night action will be 7:45 p.m.

Saturday afternoon's Golden State Futurity, the 8th renewal of the classic event, is the last stakes race of 1977 and has attracted many of the nation's outstanding 2-year-olds. Post time is set for 12:45 p.m.

Easy Della Jet, winner of four stakes events already this year, heads the list of juvenile runners expected to reach the finals. The Easy Jet filly has scored victories in the Cypress Handicap, the Leo, Juvenile and Las Ninas stakes and placed second behind the brilliant Town Policy in the Kindergarten and Bardella Handicap.

The classy filly has earned more than $84,000 for the Meadow Creek Ranch. Dennis Middelstaedt trains Easy Jet and will probably call upon the services of Danny Cardoza, the nation's top quarter horse jockey, to ride the filly.

Lanty's Easy Jet, Mi Bay and Straw Bo, three of the finest 2-year-olds on the grounds at Los Alamitos, are also probable starters in the $220,000 race.

Coed Softball Standings

Three teams are undefeated in the S.V. Coed Softball League.

Bat Patrol, Any Sunday and Old Bats are 2-0; McElroy, Toyota, Santee Sol and Ouchi are 1-1, and Idiots, Wild Bills and Misfits are 0-2.

The league is sponsored by the S.V. Park & Rec. Dist.

Ecology Group To Take Used Christmas Trees

The San Diego Ecology Center will collect both living and cut Christmas trees at McArthur Park in La Mesa January 2 through 7.

Each year the group collects living trees for transplanting in various areas throughout the county.

The group also takes out Xmas trees and makes them into mulch.

The week of January 2-7, the Center will take living trees from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Little League Baseball Park parking lot near McArthur Park.

Cut trees to be made into mulch will only be taken on January 7 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The Public Works Department will operate a chipper.

Plastic bags will be provided for those wishing to take mulch home.

Two Music Programs Set for Adventists

Two special programs presenting the music of Christmas will take place at the La Mesa Seventh-day Adventist Church.

The first will be the annual Christmas Candlelight Service featuring "Children's Christmas Carols From Europe."

This program, presented by the Youth Choir and under the direction of John Hebbel, will be Friday evening at 7:30.

The following morning at 11 a.m. there will be an hour of Christmas music featuring the Chancel Choir, soloists, instrumentalists and organ under the direction of Willard Jones.

The Adventist Church is located at 4207 Spring st., La Mesa.

Grove Man Heads Recovery Center

B. Dale Barnhill of 8326 Elkhorn, Lemon Grove has been named plant manager for the San Diego Solid Waste Resource Recovery Demonstration Center located in El Cajon.

The Recovery Center, operated by Occidental Research Corp. for the County of San Diego, is a 200-ton-a-day facility designed to extract ferrous and non-ferrous metals and glass for recycling and to convert the remaining fraction to a synthetic fuel oil.

Commissioning and start-up are scheduled to be completed with full operation slated for the Spring of 1978.

Barnhill, a 1969 graduate of the Colorado School of Mines, Golden, Colorado, with a degree in Petroleum Refining Engineering, has been with Occidental Research Corporation since January, 1976, in engineering positions related to the design and operation of the facility.

Prior to joining ORC, Barnhill was employed by Atlantic Richfield, Hanford and Universal Oil Products Companies.

SDG&E Increase Due to Exploration

The increasing cost of gas exploration and development to the Southern California Gas Company may soon mean a small increase in the cost to San Diego Gas & Electric Company gas customers.

To offset this increased cost to Southern California Gas, that company has requested the State Public Utilities Commission to permit it to increase the rates it charges SDG&E, which—in turn—has filed its own request for permission to raise its rates by a compensative $884,000 per year, effective January 1, 1978.

The proposal would mean an increase in all non-lifeline rates of less than one-third of a cent (.30c) per term or slightly more than 5c per month (5.7c) for the average residential customer whose winter use is 100 therms per month.

Litter Study in 4th Year

A Positive Litter Reduction program is currently offered to California cities after 4 years of research in 12 cities.

The program which works against seven sources of litter —commercial refuse putouts, loading and unloading operations, construction sites, pedestrians, motorists, uncovered trucks and household refuse putouts—can reportedly achieve a 70 per cent reduction in total litter.

Committees of government department officials will head the program and its comprehensive school program and model ordinance elements.

Beef Prices Up

Although the overall price index for beef sold in San Diego supermarkets has dropped a penny, the prices for many favorite cuts are up.

According to surveys conducted by the California Beef Council between November 10 and December 8, the only two cuts showing drops in prices were sirloin steak and ground beef.

Two other cuts the Council surveyed were up including round steak, up 10 cents.

Only chuck roast remained unchanged at 80 cents per pound over the survey period.

GI Bill Rules Tightened

Dropping a course or seeking non-punitive grades can be costly to GI Bill students under a law that went into effect last December.

Payments for such courses must be stopped as of the first day of the school term, unless the situation is due to circumstances beyond the student's control.

The Veteran's Administration recommends that both students and school officials provide a brief statement concerning the circumstances of the withdrawal or non-punitive grade assignment.

Free U. Registration Due in January

The Free University will be offering a wide variety of courses, groups, and workshops covering such topics as: self-help, beginning poets workshop, piano instruction, beginning layout, problem-solving, a creative solutions rap group for battered women, beginning acting, and female bonding.

Registration for the 1978 Spring Session of the Feminist Free University will be held on January 21, from 1 to 3 p.m. at 908 'F' st., San Diego. The phone number is 233-8984.

Tenn. Hoedown Aired Tuesday on KPBS-TV

Forty thousand fiddlers, square dancers, and pickers will swarm to the little town of Smithville, Tennessee, for a "Showdown at the Hoedown," on a one-hour television special broadcast Tuesday at 9:30 p.m. on KPBS-TV.

"The town of 2,000 turns into a circus," music-festival director Berry Williams relates. "A country musician will travel thousands of miles just to hear himself play."

Williams adds, "These people have something you can't learn in college. You can't learn (there) how to live a happy life."

Christmas is for toy fire engines.

Not real ones.

So here are a few holiday safety tips from SDG&E.

More fires break out at Christmas time than any other time of year. Most can be prevented. But many are caused by faulty Christmas lighting, and carelessness with holiday cooking. So, be on the safe side, read these holiday safety tips. Cut along the dotted line and pin them up where everyone in the family will see and read them. Entertain friends and family, not the fire brigade.

SDG&E SAN DIEGO GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY

HOLIDAY SAFETY TIPS

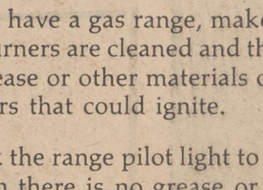
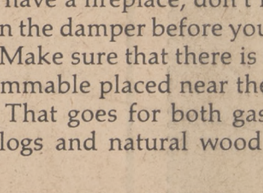
Octopus outlets have no place in your holiday plans. In short, don't put all your Christmas plugs in one outlet, or you may have a very short Christmas.



Don't use indoor fixtures or lights outside. Be sure they're UL approved for use outdoors. Rain, dew and moisture can cause shorts and leave Santa in a fine fix.

Don't hang wires over TV antennas or guy wires for TV antennas or any other outdoor wiring. A home that's a blaze of decorative lights is one thing. A home that's ablaze is quite another.



If you have an electric range, make sure it's clean and free of grease before you start your heavy holiday cooking.

If you have a gas range, make sure the burners are cleaned and there is no grease or other materials on the burners that could ignite.

Check the range pilot light to make certain there is no grease or other matter clogging it.

Watch open flames on the gas range carefully to make sure no curtains, towels, pot holders, aprons or other materials could possibly be blown on or near the flame.

If you have a fireplace, don't forget to open the damper before you start a fire. Make sure that there is nothing flammable placed near the fireplace. That goes for both gas fireplace logs and natural wood logs.

Don't wait for Santa to bring you a portable fire extinguisher. Get one well in advance of Christmas, and keep it handy.

Historic Parks Closed

Most state historic parks with the exception of El Presidio de Santa Barbara, San Pasqual Battlefield in S.D. County and Indian Grinding Rack in Amadore County will be closed to the public on Christmas and New Year's Day.

All state park units, however, will remain open on both holidays.

Holiday Helpers To Visit Hospitals

More than 100 people participating in the Holiday Hospital Project will travel to 11 San Diego hospitals and convalescent homes on Christmas to sing carols, deliver gifts, and visit with 1500 patients who will not be able to spend the holidays at home with their families.

This year, the 6th annual Holiday Hospital Project is inviting those among the public who would like to, to join them in coordinating the Project, wrapping and preparing gifts, and delivering gifts on Christmas Day.

In previous years, the Project has been coordinated by people who have taken part in the programs offered by est, an educational organization devoted to transforming the quality of peoples' lives.

Valerie Scott, 270-7880, is project manager.

What You Should Know

About Your Health

Christmas Trees

A festive Christmas tree in the home illuminates the very spirit of Christmas. No Christmas passes, however, without needless injuries in some American homes because of fires and other accidents related to Christmas trees.

You should exercise care in what kind of tree you buy, how you install it and how you trim it. Here are some safeguards which can help you protect your family and your home from Christmas disasters.

Trees

- If you are buying a natural tree, be sure that it is fresh. If the tree has brittle branches and shedding needles it is already dried out and, therefore, a fire hazard.
- If possible, keep the tree outside until you are ready to decorate it. Place it in a wide-based holder and keep several inches of water in the holder.
- When you choose a place for your tree, be sure it is a good distance from any heat source.
- Do not keep your tree in the house after the needles begin to fall off in large quantities.
- Do not dispose of your tree by burning it in your fireplace or yard. Observe local ordinances or fire department rules of disposing of used natural trees.
- If you choose a metal tree do not trim it with electric lights. Instead use colored floodlights placed around the room. These lights get quite hot so place them where children will not come in contact with them.
- Plastic trees should be made of fire-resistant material and should be kept away from heat sources.

Lighting

- Use only lights that bear the UL label for the Underwriter's Laboratory. That means that they have been checked for safety.
- If you use the same lights year after year, check them each year for frayed wires, loose connections and other defects.

No light bulbs should come in direct contact with the tree's needles or branches nor with curtains or other materials that might burst into flame.

- When you retire or go out for the evening disconnect all lights by unplugging them from the wall outlet.
- Never use wax candles on or near a tree.
- If you are decorating an outside tree be sure your lights are weatherproof and identified as being designed for outdoor use.

Tree Trimmings

- If your ornaments are breakable, place them high on the tree where they can't be reached by children or pets.
- All Christmas trimmings —on the tree or elsewhere in the home — should be non-combustible or flame-resistant.
- Keep mistletoe and holly berries out of the reach of children; they can be poisonous if more than a few are eaten.
- Avoid tinsel or artificial icicles that contain lead.

Fireplaces

- Remove all decorations from the area around the fireplace before you light the Yule log and be sure the flue is open.
- Keep a screen in front of the fireplace while a fire is burning.
- Do not use the fireplace as an incinerator for Christmas wrappings. They burn rapidly and throw off sparks and burning debris.

With a little forethought and a little vigilance, there's no reason why your Christmas shouldn't be safe as well as merry.

5 Contractors Face License Revocations

Disciplinary actions have been taken against 5 contractors in the San Diego area for failure to comply with state laws.

Licenses were indefinitely suspended from Don Francis Moore, Chula Vista; Roger F. Hunt, El Cajon; Jennings Landcsape Construction, San Diego and David C. Jennings, San Diego. Suspension of licenses prohibits the licenseholder from any professional actions for a specified period of time.

A license revocation of the J.C. Construction became effective in October. Revocations are permanent but licenses may be reinstated if the conditions leading to revocation have been eliminated.

Public To Judge Art

The public is invited to review and recommend artworks from the S.D. area to be purchased by the state under a $10,000 award program.

The program, which depends on public participation for the selection of art works, includes two meetings—January 11 and 12—at the State Office Building at 1350 Front st., in the 4th floor cafeteria.

Both meetings will start at 7 p.m. Public participants will be first asked to determine media priorities and where in the building the art shall be placed.

During the second meeting proposals from several artists will be reviewed and recommended.

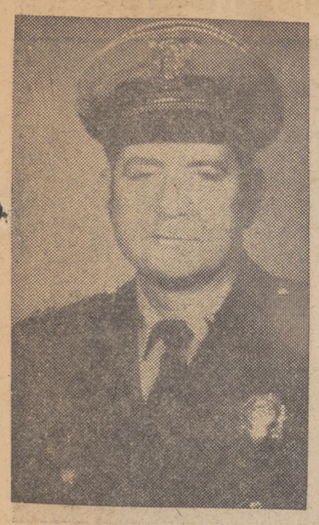
Ask Your C.H.P.



CHP Capt. C.M. Douglas

Last week Captain C. M. Douglas gave tips to motorists on what descriptive data to collect when they see a drunk driver on the road.

If you have a question, no matter how insignificant it may appear to you, ask it. It could save you a citation or even your life.

Address your questions in care of this newspaper and please allow at least three weeks for a reply to appear.

This Week's Question:

When I was driving through Pine Valley, I noticed a sign that stated "patrolled by aircraft." I've never seen the aircraft, so are the signs a bluff?

This Week's Answer:

No. The aircraft, based in El Centro, patrol the East County area of Interstate 8 several days per month.

This aircraft is not always visible depending on its altitude and doesn't always fly directly above the roadway.

The aircraft is utilized for speed enforcement, spotting stranded motorists and assisting ground units.

The aircraft can accrately pace speeding motorists and radios to ground units to stop and cite the motorist.

Our "Bear in the Air" is quite valuable as he can cover more area than three car units.

Food Stamps Returned To Gov't's Tenants

People denied food stamps over the past three years while they lived in government housing may now be eligible for retroactive benefits.

A federal district court decision Anderson v. Butz holds subsidies from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development cannot be counted as income in determining a person's eligibility for food stamps.

The subsidies go directly to a tenant's landlord and are available to persons whose income falls below the poverty line.

Recipients who were denied food stamps or received less benefits, any time between August 5, 1974 and January 7, 1976, should contact their local county welfare department about receiving retroactive aid.

The County Welfare Department's phone number is 560-3601.

Work Bids Requested

Bids for furnishing all labor, material and equipment necessary for painting and repairing buildings at the Federal Service Center in Bell will be opened on February 9 at GSA's Business Service Center, 300 North Los Angeles st., L.A.

AN INTEREST IN ALASKA sparked Andy McCullough's redwood artistry which produced these miniature totem poles, replicas of the giants of the Pacific Northwest.

It takes McCullough, a Lemon Grove resident, about two days to complete one pole and he added most come from his imagination.

New Tax Forms Promise To Simplify IRS Returns

LOS ANGELES — The 1977 federal income tax forms are supposed to be easier to understand and fill out than those of the last few years.

According to W. H. Connett, Internal Revenue Service District Director for Southern California, the I. R. S. has shortened the forms even further.

The 1040 short form, used by taxpayers who do not itemize deductions, will be a single-page document rather than a two-sided one as in the past.

The 1040 long form, on which deductions are itemized, is also a much simpler return, both to understand and to complete.

"I think the short form for 1977 is substantially simpler," Connett said. "The type is larger and less information is requested.

"All the taxpayer has to do on this form is to fill out basic information, such as name, social security number and filing status; the number of exemptions; and enter wages earned for the year, plus any interest or dividends."

If the taxpayer is entitled to the earned income credit a box is checked, then the return is ready to be signed and mailed to the IRS Fresno Service Center.

During processing at the Service Center, IRS employees will determine from the attached W-2 forms the amount of withheld tax.

They will also compute any excess FICA (social security) tax and the earned income credit, if any, then send the taxpayer either a bill or a refund check.

Taxpayers who use the 1040A form will only have to enter income information and the IRS will do everything else required..

Taxpayers may also compute their own tax on the short form if they wish.

"It will no longer be necessary to flip the long form back and forth during its preparation," Connett reiterated. "It will be what we call a 'sequential return.' That is, all the items—income, deductions, exclusions and credits—will go together and will be in a natural line-by-line progression."

Another major simplification of the 1977 tax forms involves new tax tables.

Last year taxpayers had to make several computations before going to the tax tables to find their tax.

This year those extra calculations will be eliminated for an estimated 95 percent of all taxpayers.

PUC Cuts Increase On PacTel Rate Plan

LOS ANGELES — Although telephone operators may be applauding the California Public Utilities Commission's recent decisions, businessmen may be disgusted.

The PUC recently handed down a 170 page decision, the end result of a broad investigation into all aspects of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company's monitoring practices, promotional advertising, license contract payments to AT&T, rate design and service issues.

Topping the list of issues the PUC addressed was a cut in the rate increase asked for by PacTel.

The phone company wanted to increase rates on business installations and terminal equipment charges by some $119.6 million.

The phone company will be allowed to increase rates by $12.8 million.

The utilities commission handed down an order to Pacific to crack down on supervisors and local managers who were forcing operators to handle calls faster. The PUC said the quality of operators' performance was decreasing but allowed the phone company to continue its practice of monitoring "remotely" operators' calls.

Holiday Pet Warning

The California Veterinary Medical Association warns parents who plan to give their children pets for Christmas, puppies and kittens don't fare well around loose electrical wires, Christmas trees, table scraps, inclement weather, or alcoholic beverages.

The Association said each year California veterinarians run across cases of animals which have swallowed tree ornaments and poisons, have been electrocuted, and generally neglected during the season.

The Association suggests a local veterinarian's phone number be kept handy if pets are planned as gifts.

Licenses Required For Mo-Ped Drivers

The California Office of Traffic Safety has issued a release warning holiday mo-ped beneficiaries the two wheeled vehicles require a driver's license.

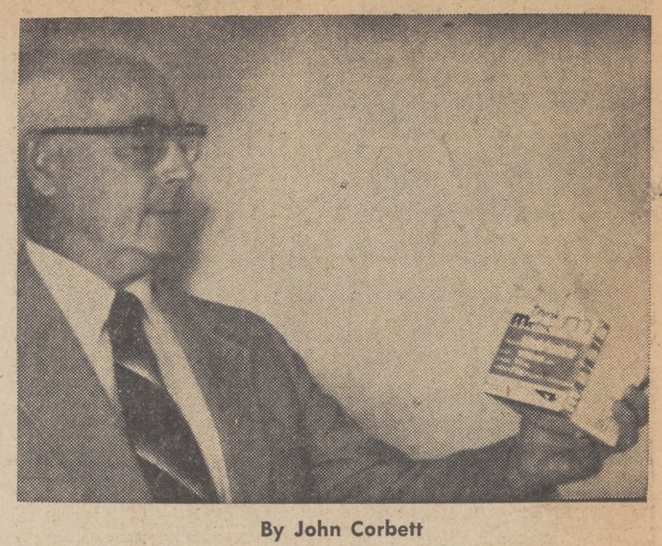
According to a statement released by Tom Lankard, Chief of the Traffic Safety Office, an unlicensed mo-ped driver can be cited for violation of the state vehicle law and is also subject to state financial responsibility requirements.

Iredale Heads Judges

Judge T. Bruce Iredale has been elected by the judges of the Municipal Court of the San Diego Judicial District to be the Presiding Judge for the calendar year 1978.

Iredale has been a member of the court since his appointment by former governor Ronald Reagan in 1968. Prior to his appointment he had been associated with the District Attorney's office.

Metric System; How it Works



By John Corbett

This is the second of a series on the metric system.

It explains the need for an interntional system of measurements.

Following this article, we will view the basic units and two supplementary units.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF MEASUREMENT

As far back as 7000 BC the Egyptians recognized the need for standard measurements. Certain cylindrical stones were made to establish units of weight.

Length measurements were associated with the human body. The cubit, an early measurement of length was the distance from the elbow to the end of the middle finger. About 4000 BC the cubit was standardized by Egyptian law at what is now 46.33 centimetres. Three other early measures of length relating to the body were the palm, the span and the digit.

Both the Greeks and the Romans used the foot as a unit of measurement. Unfortunately, the Greek foot and the Roman foot were not of the same length. The Greek foot was approximately 30.9 centimetres in length while the Roman foot was slightly less than 29.6 centimetres.

Henry I of England decred a yard to be the distance from the tip of his nose to the end of his thumb.

Henry III established the penny as the weight of 32 grains of wheat taken from the middle of the ear, and Edward II fixed the inch as the length of three barley corns placed end-to-end.

It is obvious that such haphazard selection of units created a muddle of weights and measures.

Toward the end of the 18th century scientists attempted to create a system of logical related units. The metre was selected as the unit of length and was defined as one ten-millionth of the distance between the pole and the equator, measured on a parallel line running between Barcelona, Spain and Dunkirk, France.

Multiples and sub-units of the metre were created on a decimal basis and designated by adding a prefix to the name. From this we have kilometre (1,000 metres), centimeter ((0.01 metre) millimetre (0.001) metre) etc., and the division or multiplication of values is accomplished by moving the decimal point.

One tenth of a metre is called a decimetere and one cubic decimetre is called a litre. The mass of one cubic decimetre of water at its maximum density was established as a kilogram. Thus, we have a fixed relationship between units of length (the metre), volume (the cubic decimetre), and mass (the kilogram).

In the U. S. alone there are more than 1,000 species of grass.

LG Resident In Program at BYU

Dale H. Jones of Lemon Grove, the principal of Central School in National City, is currently enrolled in his second year of a unique Intern Doctoral Program through Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah.

The Intern Doctoral Program gives educators an opportunity to earn a doctoral degree while remaining on the job.

The seven year old program, designed for school administrations, principals, counselors, curriculum specialists, or teachers takes BYU faculty members and their classrooms to the doctoral candidates wherever they live.

Participants on the average spend two years and three months completing their doctoral program work, including two summer terms in residence on the BYU campus.

Each participant is visited about 15 times at his place of employment during the two-year program.

Each year more than 200 applicants are screened and a class of 60 is chosen. The applicants must show proper academic standing, provide recommendations, and go through pretesting, personal interviews, and preadmission orientation, which includes agreement to conform to the BYU standards while on campus.

The second year of the program requires participants to take a 15 and 1/2 hour comprehensive examination, then five oral exams of 30 minutes each on questions dealing with their major or in a broad interdisciplinary area. They also take 13 hours of written exams.

Cal 1st's Dividends Up

SAN FRANCISCO — The board of directors of California First Bank have increased the bank's regular quarterly dividend from 19 cents per share to 20 cents for the final quarter of 1977.

The cash payment will be made on or about January 16, 1978, to shareholders of record as of December 16, 1977.

The increase will bring payouts for the year 1977 to a total of 75 cents per share, up from 65 cents per share paid in 1976.

Bank President Masao Tsuyama said the increase, the third this year, reflects the bank's steadily improving business performance.

Net income of $9.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1977, was up 16 percent over the like period a year earlier.

California First Bank currently reports approximately 5-1/2 million shares of common stock outstanding.

Energy Generators Unlikely Substitutes

The development of co-generation plants, often mentioned as a possible means of meeting future electric energy needs, is not highly recommended by SDG&E.

According to the company, the output of such plants is small and is not expected to contribute significantly to meeting overall system generating requirements.

The plants use oil or gas-fired turbines, yet the permission to use either gas or oil is questionable after 1981.

Social Security Booklet

If a working woman interrupts her career to have children, what will this do to her social security benefits?

If a non-working widow remarries, can she continue to receive her late husband's benefits?

Can a divorced woman draw death or retirement benefits on her former husband's work records?

These questions and more are answered in a new pamphlet, "A Woman's Guide to Social Security," available free from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.
